Dr. Walker also delivered my two sons:

Edward Kenniston

Donald Kenniston

When I asked him to see if I didn't have a daughter when he said I had another son,
He said "Liz, I think I know a boy from a girl by now -"

I once said to Dr Brad: "with my full time job, working on the farm and two sons in high school, I think I'm going crazy - to which he said "Elizabeth as long as you are able to think this way, you're not going crazy - It's the ones walking around who think they have their lives perfect, Who Are Crazy"

When my sister Elraea was a little girl, Dr Brad said "she's a little Tom Boy and I'm calling her Tommie." And I can't pronounce ~~the~~<sup>her</sup> name anyway!!" To this day, we call our sister Tommie.

He loved venison and a few times took home venison meat. What happened to it after it left our house, I do not know —

Dr Walker was very endeared to the Thompson family and when he could, would sit in our living <sup>room</sup> on our couch and have a cup of coffee, talking with us. He would be on his way to Kent School and needed a few minutes of rest. I will always remember his warm delightful laugh. I will always remember him. —
