

23 July 2011

Thank you for such a charming and edifying exhibit. I'm old enough to remember when doctors still made house calls, and how such intimate associations between the patient and doctor made all the difference in the world to accelerating my recovery and assuaging my parents' anxieties.

This was well worth my visit to the Cornwalls from NYC.

Regards,

Eric K. Washington